Box Tops

Calling all parents, students, friends, relatives and teachers. We need to get everyone we know clipping Box Tops! There is money out there just waiting to be claimed and all we need to do is make a few snips with our scissors! Be on the watch for a Box Tops contest coming soon!

GOOD STUDY HABITS

The journalism class has been given the privilege of sharing an article with you each month in the Reporter. In the future, we will take turns writing the articles ourselves, but for this first article we want to share some good study habits that students can put into place for a successful year. (We need to give credit where credit is due, and the wording for these habits comes from a Trend Enterprises poster C2001.)

- Write down your assignments in a notebook or on a calendar.
- Prioritize your homework.
- Set a regular time each day to study.
- Keep paper, pencils, a calculator, and a dictionary nearby.
- Find a quiet, comfortable place to spread out your books.
- Turn off the television and don't take any phone calls or email.
- Take notes on the information that you read.
- Ask a friend or a family member to help you review what you've learned.
- Organize your finished homework to take back to school.
- Reward your hard work with a special treat.

We wish everyone a great year!
